

Service Description

The most distinctive advantage that GoMeetNow has over other competing web conferencing service providers is that it provides a Web Conferencing service that guarantees your attendees can join your web meetings.

Attendance failure can be due to many reasons such as firewall blocking and corporate download policy and is the most difficult issue that every web conferencing system faces today. RHUB's patent pending 'Universal Attendance Technology', which enables the GoMeetNow service, has resolved this issue for the first time with commercial quality.
